

CHRISTINE SIAGIAN

Christine Siagian is a pharmacist and a staff of Indonesian Drug Regulatory Authority - Badan POM. Christine joined Badan POM in 1999 as an evaluator for Biologicals Dossier, then moved to Clinical Trial unit in 2009. Christine's first involvement with World Health Organization Global Learning Opportunities was in 2009. Since then, Christine facilitates Clinical Trial Authorization and Good Clinical Practice Inspection courses.

Christine also served as temporary advisor to World Health Organization on various missions in China, South Africa, Malawi, and Vietnam. She also helped WHO in coaching/mentoring facilitators of other GLO courses.

Christine loves active interaction in Global Learning Opportunities learning events, she has been instrumental in incorporating new activities and games to these courses.

"My goal in every course is to have a mutual knowledge, of which I learn from participants, and they have to get something from me" says Christine, "We can make big changes through little things. I don't mind doing little things, but Global Learning Opportunities is a big one".
